Trapped in a Closed World Catholic Culture and Sexual Abuse

Trapped in a Closed World is Kevin's first-hand account of the harmful clerical culture that dominated Catholic seminary life in Australia in the 1960s. This is more than just a memoir. It is an insightful and compelling examination of clerical culture and its link to sexual abuse in Catholic institutions.

To be launched by Donella Johnston, SEE-Change Gungahlin Convenor. Donella is an educator, sustainability activist, community organiser and an advocate for women. She is passionate about social and environmental justice and how kindness, compassion and connection can transform communities, one individual at a time.
